

Kennede Boyd is a third-year student studying political science with a minor in English at Alabama Agricultural & Mechanical University. During her undergraduate career, she participated in various opportunities to strengthen her research and leadership abilities, such as the Thurgood Marshall College Fund ZS SEED Immersion Program. She has expertise in focused research, customer service, and project management through her involvement in diverse organizations and experiences. In addition to participating in programs on and off campus, she balances an on-campus job while retaining a 3.95 GPA. Outside of her professional life, she enjoys eating out and watching movies with her friends and family.